1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Wanzor. Wanzor discloses a drink holder that can adjust to fit in any angle rod holder with a hollow cylindrical cup portion 40 with one open end and a rod portion 26 mounted to the opposite closed end, such that the rod portion can adjust to any angle rod holder while the cup portion remains vertical (note, for example, Figures 1, 7A, and 7B).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wanzor in view of Brushaber. Wanzor does not disclose a round ratchet assembly. Brushaber teaches a round ratchet assembly for adjustment of a bracket. It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to form the bracket of Wanzor to have a round ratchet assembly for allow improved adjustment as taught by Brushaber.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Lewis discloses a railing. Tull et al show a cup holder. Hillcourt shows a cup 11. Hagberg shows a pole holder with ratchet. Cummings shows a ratchet.

6. A proper response to an Office Action should include:

Instruction to cancel or amend the rejected claims or to substitute, or add claims to be considered by this Office;

Acknowledgment of objections to the drawing and/or specification by:

(a) Specific instructions to correct these defects, or

(b) Requesting that these objections be held in abeyance until allowable subject matter is indicated;

An argument under the heading "Remarks" in which Applicant points out wherein he may disagree with the Examiner's contentions and wherein he also discusses the references applied against his claims, explaining how his claims avoid these references or distinguish from them in a patentable sense.
